MANY WOMEN ARE ELIGIBLE FOR WAVES

Opportunity in the Women's Reserve of the Navy for women between 20 and 36 who are high school graduates are numerous, and the jobs are well paid.

At present, women are being trained as yeomen, storekeepers, radio operators and repairmen. The Navy will shortly accept women who are skilled as facterilogists, roentgenologists, chemical laboratory technicians, physio therapists and occupational therapists. The latter group will not be trained by the Navy, but will be chosen on the basis of training and experience and will then be assigned directly to active duty with the Naval Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

A quota of sixty women doctors has been assigned to the WAVES by the Navy Department. A good many vacancies still exist and will be filled by women doctors who apply directly from civilian life.

The pay for enlisted WAVES ranges from $50.00 monthly base pay upon entry for training all the way to a total of $208.40 for Chief Petty Officer, which sum includes rental and subsistence allowance if no government quarters are furnished.

Women who possess a college degree or two years of college work in an accredited institution plus enough business experience are eligible for consideration for a commission in the Women's Reserve of the Navy.

All women may apply to the WAVES Recruiting Headquarters, 1320 G. Street, N. W. Washington, D. C. or inquire at the nearest Navy Recruiting Station for information.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Don't ever argue with Grandma Hoskins about American history unless you know what you're talking about. Because when Grandma states a fact, it really is a fact.

The other day we got to talking about George Washington — who besides being a great general, was a public surveyor, a successful farmer, and a wise statesman.

"And he made mighty good beer, too," says Grandma.

That was news to most of us.

"You can see his private recipe for beer right in the New York Public Library," Grandma Hoskins tells us. "It's his own handwriting, at that."

And then she opened up on how Washington and those others who founded America believed in beer and moderation. Told us about William Penn who had his own brewery down in Pennsylvania, and Israel Putnam . . . Samuel Adams of Massachusetts and James Oglethorpe of Georgia.

"Beer," Grandma goes on, "has grown up with the country because it's a symbol of good fellowship and moderation."

Way back in 1789, she told us, James Madison stood up in the House of Representatives and made the motion urging "the manufacture of beer in every State of the Union." And that same year Massachusetts passed an act stating that "the wholesome qualities of malt liquors greatly recommend them to general use."

From there on — until early in 1918, the brewing industry kept growing and beer and ale kept getting better and better.

Then came prohibition . . . thirteen dark years that bred vice and crime. Grandma says it taught us something though — something that George Washington and all those other early American statesmen knew all along . . . that no law ever takes the place of self-restraint and moderation.

That's why they were friends of beer and made moderation a cornerstone of American freedom. They were right about a lot of things — Washington and Adams and Penn. And from where I sit, they certainly were right about moderation, too.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

At Midway, in the Coral Sea and from General Macarthur's headquarters in Australia, the Navy patrol bombers are searching out enemy bases, ships and transports and "completing their mission." The Navy Patrol Bomber costs about $750,000.

Our factories are turning out hundreds of these bombing ships. Yet it is only through your investment in War Bonds and Stamps you can do your share to help provide patrol bombers for our rapidly increasing air force. Invest at least ten percent of your income every payday in these Government securities and do your bit to win and shorten the war. Our airmen are depending on your help.

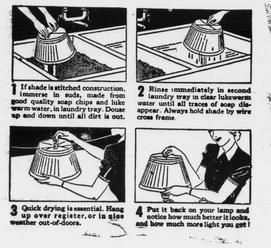
"How to get the most from your Lighting Service!"

WASHING RENEWS SILK AND RAYON LAMP SHADES

YOU may not realize it, but a soiled silk or rayon lamp shade can reduce your light as much as 30%. To help you get better light and make your shades last longer, our Lighting Service Department has worked out this simple method for washing stitched silk and rayon shades at home. (Warning: Glued shades may fall apart in water!)



1 If shade is stitched construction, immerse in suds, made from good quality soap chips and luke warm water, in laundry tray. Douse up and down until all dirt is out.

2 Rinse immediately in second laundry tray in clear lukewarm water until all traces of soap disappear. Always hold shade by wire cross frame.

3 Quick drying is essential. Hang up over registers, or in sun weather out-of-doors.

4 Put it back on your lamp and notice how much better it looks, and how much more light you get!

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for October 25

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

STEPS TOWARD SOLUTION OF THE ALCOHOL PROBLEM

LESSON TEXT—Ecclesiastes 10:17; Amos 5:21-24; Romans 14:19-21 II Corinthians 6:17; I Peter 4:1-5.

GOLDEN TEXT—Let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.—Amos 5:24.

Let's do something about it! That is the right word regarding the liquor problem now. The time is past for theorizing or deploring—we need action. The liquor interests have brushed their efforts of late because they fear the aroused public opinion of decent Americans. Why do not America's 65,000,000 church members say the word now, and curb this awful thing which is threatening to destroy us?

I. Right-Minded Rulers (Eccles. 10:17).

National leaders should set the example for the people—an example of sobriety, of clear-headed thought and full devotion to the cause of our country. Are they doing it? We quote: "Washington is the wettest spot in the nation. The number of gallons per person there at Washington where they need the clearest heads, the steadiest nerves, and the highest morals, they are drinking the most booze" (Dr. I. M. Hargett). What about 1942? Those who have been able to observe, indicate that conditions are probably worse now!

The secretary of war and the secretary of the navy have insisted on the desirability of the sale of beer in service canteens. No wonder the Brewers' Digest of May, 1941, gloated: "One of the finest things that could have happened was the insistence by high ranking officers to make beer available in army camps . . . Here is a chance for the brewers to cultivate a taste for beer in millions of young men."

America had better wake up!

II. Right-Spirited People (Amos 5:21-24).

God has no pleasure in the religious observances and the pious words of a people who profess to worship, but who come with unrepentant hearts and unclean hands.

Can God bless the man (or his money) who profits either directly or indirectly from the sale of intoxicants? Amos has the answer. Let us heed his plea that righteousness should run through our national, as well as our personal lives, "as a mighty stream."

III. Right - Living Christians (Rom. 14:19-21; II Cor. 6:17; I Pet. 4:1-5).

We have already suggested that there are 65,000,000 church members in America. If they were all right-living Christians there can be little question that they would long since have eliminated the liquor business, for it is certainly most unchristian. Apparently they are either not real Christians, or they are asleep to their responsibility. Our Scriptures in this section tell us that in a true Christian life there is

1. No offense (Rom. 14:19-21). The question here is that of eating meat offered to idols, which does not concern us; but the great Christian principle here stated is of the highest importance and bears directly on our daily life.

None of us lives to himself (Rom. 14:7). Everything we do counts either for or against Christ. Such an ordinary (we regret) thing as staying away from church service speaks to the world and especially to our neighbors of our loss of interest and respect for the worship of God. Apply that principle to the use of any alcoholic beverage, and every Christian must be a total abstainer.

2. No Compromise (II. Cor. 6:17). We have come to the unscriptural and deeply dangerous viewpoint that if a Christian wants to compromise a bit with the world, the flesh and the devil, that's his "business." God does not think so. He says: "Come out from among them, and be ye separate." The weakness of the church on this matter of liquor is that too many of the 65,000,000 are guilty of the sin (and that's what it is!) of compromise.

3. No Worldliness (I Pet. 4:1-5). Here again the assumption of many is that there are two groups in the church—worldly Christians and spiritually minded ones, and that each is as good as the other. Both classes are there, no doubt about that, but God never has and never will countenance worldliness on the part of His people.

Essentially, there are just two opposing principles in this world—self-will and God's will. We are either controlled by the flesh or by the Spirit of God. Peter makes it clear that the one who claims to belong to Christ should no longer be controlled by self-will, but by God's will. Are we ready, fellow Christians, to yield to Him?

BIRTHDAY OCTOBER 26th

The 26th of October will mark the 80th birthday of Mr. M. C. Smith, one of Appomattox county's most esteemed citizens. Mrs. Smith celebrated her birthday on September 30th. Mr. and Mrs. Smith observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary a number of years ago.

THE "SALS" ARE ON THE JOB

DOING her share in producing the tools of war is this attractive girl employee of Small Arms Limited, the government-owned company at Long Branch, near Toronto. The "SAL" on her smart overalls is the insignia of the company (not her name), worn proudly by hundreds of young women who are turning out quantities of Lee-Enfield rifles and sub-machine guns for their fathers, brothers and sweethearts in the armed forces. This girl is operating a milling machine on a Lee-Enfield rifle. The management of this plant's appeal for more "SALS" to meet augmented production schedules has resulted in many more Canadian women joining the ranks of these women working for victory.
